

ADVENTURES IN ENGLAND 2026

by Pataki Zita, Rajkó Krisztina, Sándor Renáta Tamara

During spring break, the whole group of 59 children was excitedly preparing for the trip beginning on Easter Monday. The journey began at 4 AM on a double-decker bus. We spent the first night at a transit hotel in Belgium near the German border.

The next day, we crossed the legendary Channel Tunnel between France and England, and with that, our roaming in the UK began. Our first stop was Avebury, where we could discover a stone circle which is like Stonehenge but 14 times bigger, and we could also experience the English village's feeling.

We went forward to meet our host families. The local parents welcomed us with great excitement and hospitality, and they introduced us to different cultural dishes and traditions. As they were very open, we could chat with them a generous amount. Throughout the week, we visited a bunch of monuments and smaller villages. For example, we took a look at the Berkley Castle, where we could get to know a lot of interesting facts about the aristocratic family.

We also had the chance to visit the beach of Dorset, and we took a short hike on the cliffs surrounding the water. There was only one thing more spectacular than the breathtaking view of the sea, which was a gigantic seal lying in the sun on the beach.

During the trip, we often got free time in bigger cities such as Bath and Winchester so that we could discover the beauty of the place in our own ways. One of the last programmes was a safari park where we could see tigers, elephants, cheetahs, giraffes and zebras. We could also tour Longleath Castle, which the half-Hungarian László owns and lives in. After the week, we could return home with unreplaceable memories.

We recommend this trip to every adventurous student.
